FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*DRESSER WAYNE EXPERTS TO SPEAK ON ECO-FUELS AND PCI AT SIGMA CONVENTION

APRIL 21, 2009, (Austin, TX) — Dresser Wayne, a global innovator of fuel dispensers and technologies, announces that two of its industry experts will be presenting at the Society for Independent Gas Marketers of America (SIGMA) Convention in San Antonio, Texas, April 23 – 26. Scott Negley, director of North American dispenser marketing, will be discussing the impact of higher ethanol blends on retailers. Tim Weston, product manager for payment technologies, will speak about new Payment Council Industry (PCI) payment security regulations.

“We work closely with our customers and industry leaders to deliver solutions that address the challenges and opportunities retailers are facing. It’s important to come together in forums such as the SIGMA Convention to share our knowledge and exchange information with others about critical issues such as eco-fuels and payment security,” says Bill Reichhold, Vice President, US Sales. Negley will speak during the breakout session, “E15/E20 How it Impacts Marketers/ Current Status of Biodiesel.” Negley also serves as the secretary of the Board of Directors for the National Ethanol Vehicle Coalition.

Addressing retailers’ questions about new PCI payment security regulations, Tim Weston will be on the panel “PCI: What Do I Really Need to Know.” Weston leads Dresser Wayne’s participation in key payment security industry organizations, such as the PCI Security Standards Council
